

Biospherical's Germar Bernhard was awarded a three year NSF grant titled "Ultraviolet Radiation in the Arctic: 2012-2015". This marks the 25th year that Biospherical has been monitoring UV radiation at high latitudes under NSF support.